2018 Collection

A natural world in miniature

Our Values

Accuracy, Quality and Safety.

Our Vision

Building a natural world in miniature for Collectors.

Our Mission

To restore through toys, dinosaurs and other extinct prehistoric animals, and to foster a knowledge of evolution, thus making people of all ages aware of the calamities of environmental destruction. To explore the animals of the present world, and especially those now endangered species, in order to communicate the importance and value of animal protection. To discover the natural differences and evolution of species, their environments and habitats through play.

Prehistoric World

Anthony Beeson

2018 sees CollectA enter its twelfth year of existence in producing models of Prehistoric fauna and flora. It continues in its mission to both educate and to provide the greatest amount of creative play with the accuracy of its models.

This year in close collaboration with my colleague, the sculptor Matthias Geiger, we have produced another varied selection of animals for CollectA's prehistoric animal series. In response to requests from our fans and collectors we commence a new Early Prehistoric Series. The initial animals chosen for this larger scaled series are the Permian omnivore Estemmenosuchus and the Permian carnivore Dimetrodon. The latter incorporates new research as to appearance of the dorsal sail and spines. These are joined by the terrifying Late Devonian placoderm fish Dunkleosteus. Both the latter and Dimetrodon have articulated jaws.

In CollectA's popular series we offer a model showing the European lightly built iguanodont, Mantellisaurus, in the act of drinking. To join it we have produced a model of the newly resurrected and iconic Jurassic sauropod, Brontosaurus.

In the Deluxe range we introduce three models of carnivores with articulated jaws, the Jurassic Ceratosaurus, and the Cretaceous Mapusaurus and a new Tyrannosaurus with part-plumage. To join them is a new model of Iguanodon.

In the Prehistoric Animal range we have produced a model of the remarkable early elephant, Gomphotherium, from the Miocene and Pliocene eras which we hope will find favour.

Finally, for the Supreme range we have produced by request a model of the recently discovered tiny juvenile and fully feathered Bavarian theropod, Sciuromimus alberdoerferi.

Wishing you all a happy and educational year of play and collecting.
